Figure S1: Forest plot shows the prevalence of conjunctival congestion /conjunctivitis (A), ocular pain (B), ocular discomfort (C), and visual disturbance/blurred vision (D) in COVID-19 patients. Diamond mark illustrates pooled prevalence.

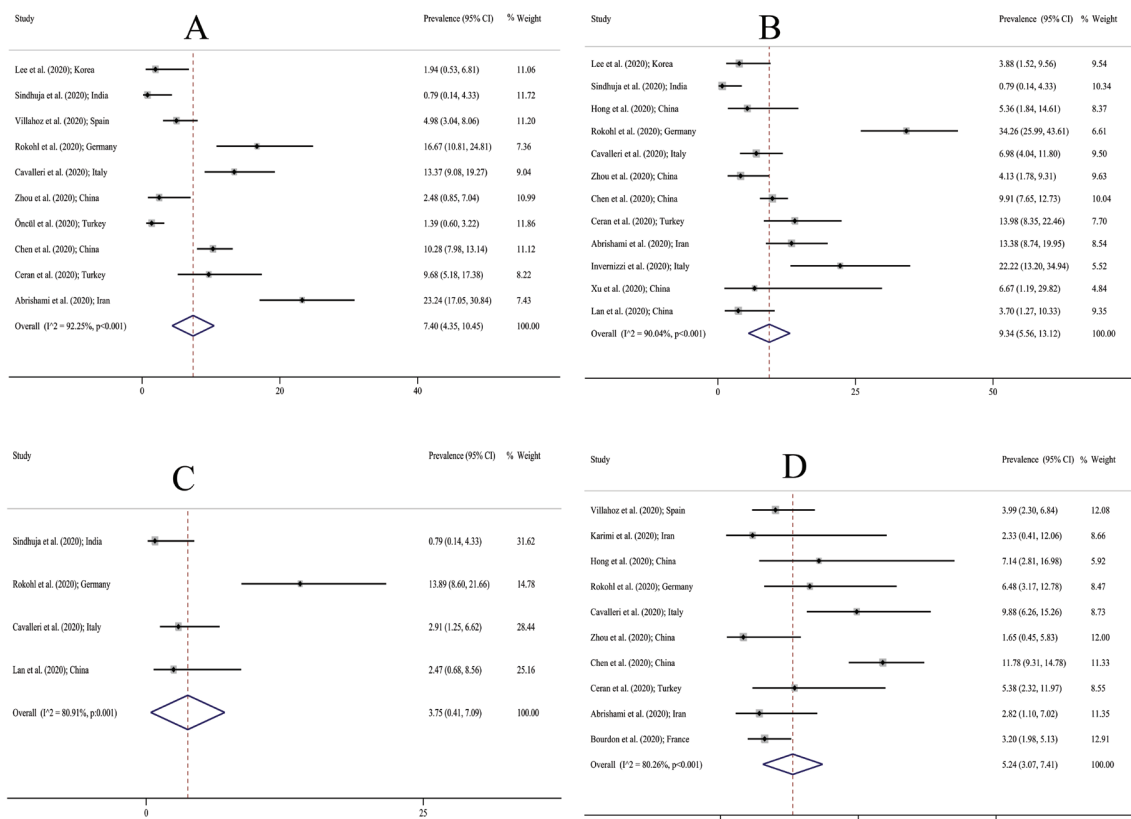

Figure S2: Forest plot shows the prevalence of epiphora (A), irritation/itching/burning sensation (B), swollen eyelid (C), and foreign body sensation (D) in COVID-19 patients. Diamond mark illustrates pooled prevalence.
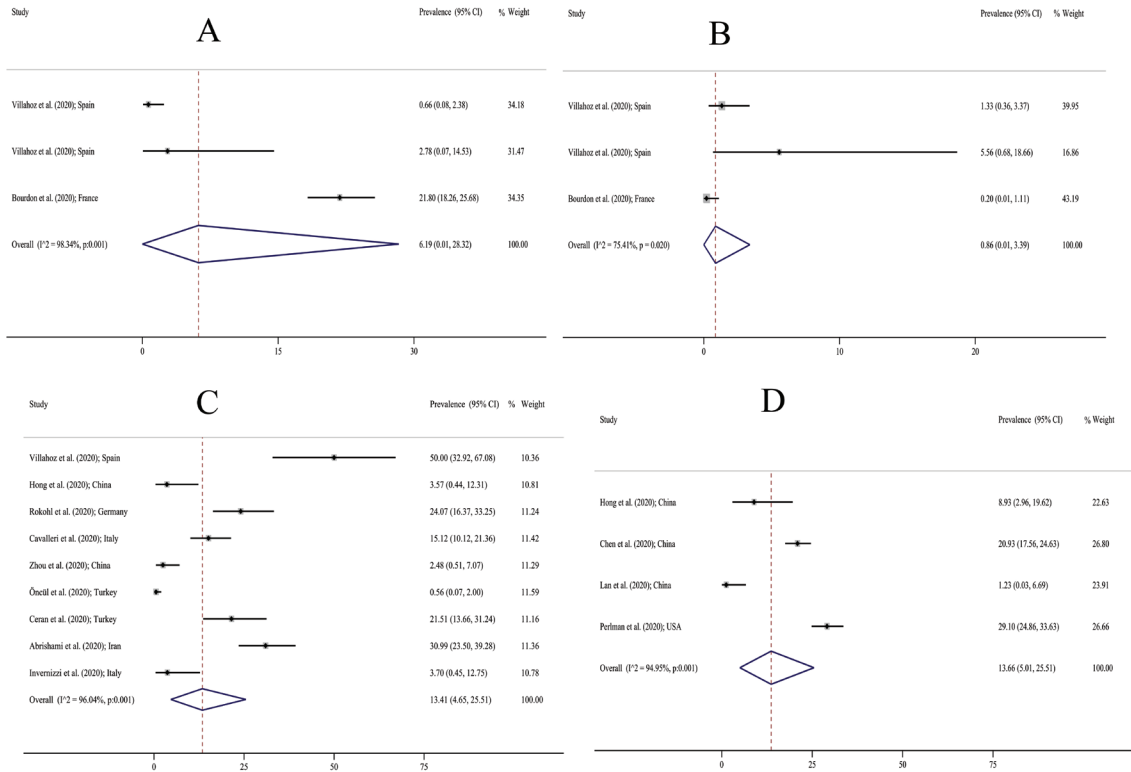

Figure S3: Forest plot shows the prevalence of hordeolum (A), pterygium (B), conjunctival hyperemia (C), and dry eyes (D) in COVID-19 patients. Diamond mark illustrates pooled prevalence.

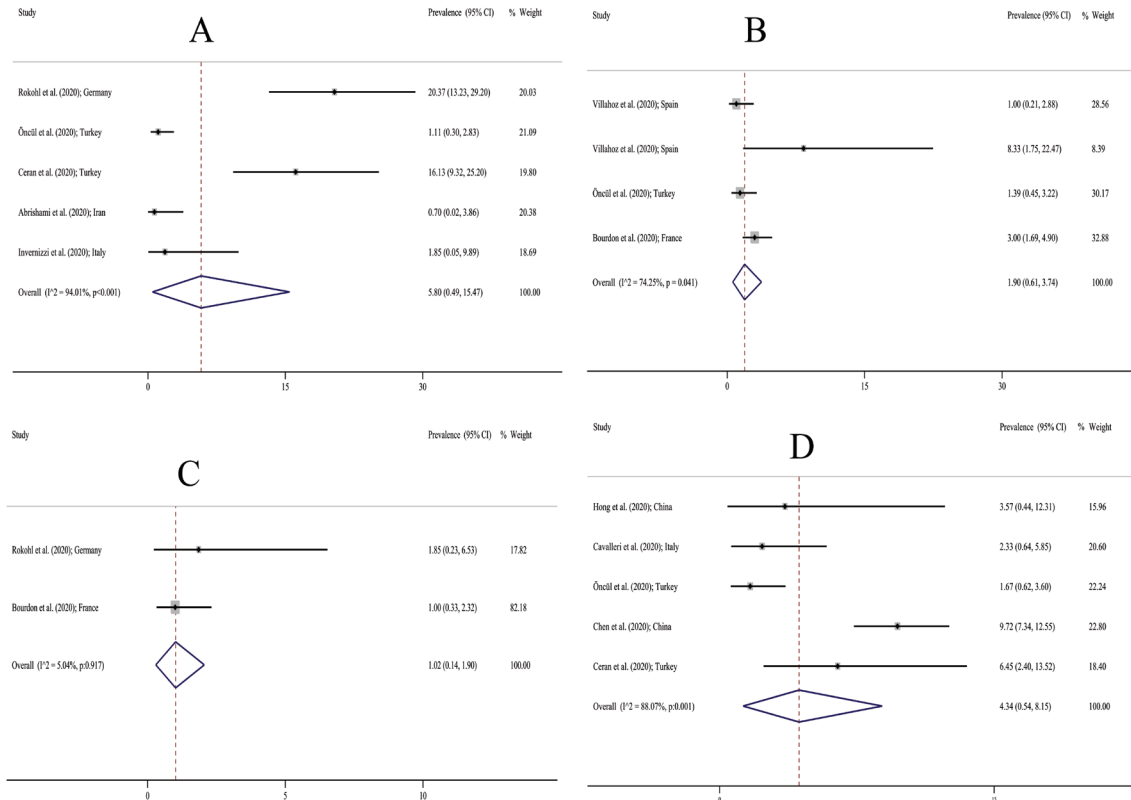

Figure S4: Forest plot shows the prevalence of photophobia (A), subconjunctival hemorrhage (B), diplopia (C), and eye/conjunctival secretion (D) in COVID-19 patients. Diamond mark illustrates pooled prevalence.